

The Best Strictly Indoor Basketball Shoes

Harden 9 - (My Favorite) Adidas reigns supreme in the basketball world at the moment. I'm a huge Nike fan, but there is no doubt Adidas Basketball is ahead of the game. The Harden 9 is like having a shield on your feet. The protection and stability you get from these is out of this world. You can currently get these on adidas.com or Dick's Sporting Goods.

Way of Wade All City 13 - (The Best Sneaker Technology) The Way of Wade collection continues to amaze me. The durability and support you get from these shoes are out of this world. The material that Way of Wade uses is revolutionary. You can find these shoes on the Way of Wade website.

Nike LeBron 22 - (The Best Shoe for Big Men)

The LeBron 22 is a beast of a shoe. This shoe has great lockdown and support. Nike killed it with this one, and they needed it desperately to catch up this year. The Air Zoom unit in the heel is great for shock absorption and heel pain. You can find these on Nike.com and Dick's Sporting Goods. They will be going on sale soon.

Anta Kai 1 speed (the best shoe for shifty guards)—a Kyrie Irving-inspired shoe. Very quick and responsive shoe that is meant for quick cuts and crossovers. You can find these shoes on Anta's website or Dick's Sporting Goods.

Sabrina 2 - (The best male/female shoe) Nike nailed it with this one. The technology in this shoe went back to Nike's roots and reminded me of the older Nike basketball shoes that everyone loved so much. You can find these shoes on Nike.com. Wait for them to go on discount.

Way of Wade Ultra 4 - If you love a thick foam plush feeling under your feet, then this is the shoe for you. These shoes have a high stack foam, and once broken in, give you a plush feel on the court. You can find these shoes on the Way of Wade website.
